As I write this message for the annual college magazine, I feel extremely happy and grateful to our Almighty God for giving me the privilege to lead this prestigious institution, Khalifa Science College, Amman for a glorious journey of 41 years during which it has managed to scale new heights and carved a niche for itself on the academic map of Higher Education in the state. It is a pride to see an institution growing into maturity. The college has emerged as a beacon of excellence, standing tall and taking pride in the galaxy of students who have walked through this very corridor. It goes without saying that our alumni are deserving possessors of great responsibility and honour across the country and abroad. We are proud of our students who are men and women of integrity and contributing to our society in many ways. I salute the efforts of all those principals and faculty members in the annals of the college history who led this institution to its glory. Their commitment and dedication will forever be remembered. The backbone of every institution is its committed teachers who spark the imagination of their students and give wings to their dreams. Khalifa Science College is fortunate to have highly qualified and dedicated teachers. # Editorial NOTE

It gives me an immense pleasure to place in your hand the 46th Volume of our annual college magazine 'ILLUME 2022'. This magazine is not the outcome of the effort put by an individual, but is the immense effort put forward by the Literary Committee and my dear fellow Kscjians. From the varieties of writings, visuals and reports, the magazine like the literal meaning of the word 'Illume' throws light upon the readers highlighting the activities of the college for the academic session 2021-22.

Time since 2020 has been nothing short of a dangerous ride the world rode together. We all faced a difficult time getting adjusted to a new lifestyle, be it children cut off from school, or adults cut off from their social buzz. Yes, it has been difficult. After all, it's a health crisis of the century. But, despite challenging times, how beautifully and bravely have we embraced the change. Every day, someone finds a solution to a problem that we might not have faced before Covid. Every day, we become more resilient and fresh winners. The world has continued to grow, people have continued to learn something new every day, humanity is continually coming closer (more quickly) to join hands and stand strong. Scientific breakthrough haven't stopped as the world continues to evolve due to the lessons the humanity learned from the pandemic. In this age of the world undergoing a significant change, let us also evolve and equip ourselves with the skill and knowledge to walk along with the rest of the world.

The Literary Committee acknowledges the College Authorities, KSCSU Executives, contributors and all the students of Kohima Science College (Autonomous), Jotsoma for their constant support in bringing up this publication. While utmost care has been taken to ensure errorfree magazine, we sincerely contrite with unintended errors, if any.

'ILLUME' will continue to thrive the core value of Commitment, Accountability and Integrity. I hope that this magazine shall unquestionably inspire us by enlightening with vantage points of the contents and also remind us the progress we have made so far. When you flip through the pages may you find love in small delights, unalloyed hope and faith in all that you read and see through.

Best wishes from the Literary Committee.

Mr. Suyim Jamir

It has been an immense privilege to have served as the Nature Club Secretary (2021-2022) and be a part of the Student's Union in one of the most reputed colleges in our state. All glory and thanks to God. The experiences and wisdom gained throughout this short tenure has been a blessing and will forever remain and translate in the future endeavours as well. I would like to extend my utmost gratitude and thanks to my advisor Dr. Moaakum, my fellow executives and to all the Club Members for their support and cooperation during my tenure.

For the tenure 2021-2022, 139 students joined the Nature Club. A Lot of activities could not be carried out as it was plagued with a very short tenure, but the Nature Club took active participation in all the social works which were assigned to the club. The Club took the initiative to create its own Club badge which was presented to all the club members. On 22nd April, 2022, the Nature Club along with the Science Club celebrated Earth day where members from both the club attended the program which implemented on spreading awareness in regard to the importance of protecting, conserving and investing in our Environment. On 4th June, 2022, the Nature Club and the NCC, observed World Environment Day.

The growing concern with the sheer amount of environmental issues which has surrounded us and the situation not getting any better, it has become ever so important to have a Nature Club, making Students aware and contributing towards our nature. I hope and believe in the coming days more students will join the club.

Blessed greetings to all in the name of our lord and savior Jesus Christ.

Iwould like to express my gratitude to the editorial team for this platform and their tireless time and effort. God bless! I also would like to acknowledge the college authorities and members of the CCF (Campus Christian Fellowship) for their support towards the ministry.

Brief history: Evangelical Union (EU) is a student ministry which began in 1951 after a few humbled number of believing students gathered together in Madras for prayers, felt the need for more deeper and intimate fellowship with the Lord. They met at Prof. H. Enoch's residence for fellowship and there the first EU was formed. EU is inter-denominational and thus, regardless of different denominations, we come together for fellowship and prayer, to grow together in Christian life while also reaching out to the non-believing students. First EU in Nagaland was established in Fazal Ali College in 1965. EU in Kohima Science College Autonomous Jotsoma was established in 1969.

Vision Statement: "Transformed students impacting the campuses and the nation as disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ."

Mission Statement: "USEI seeks to evangelise Post-matric students in India, nurture them as disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ . That they may serve the church and the society."

UESI has four aims: Evangelism, Fellowship, Testimony and Mission.

KSC(A)J EU for the tenure 2021- 2022 was consecrated on 21st April, 2021 with 29 members. Senior Advisors:

Alohomora

BOOK CLUB

Alohomora is the book club of KSCJ, set up in the month of April 2022 with the focus to propel the habit of reading and the love of literature among the students. The present Literary and Cultural Secretary approached the advisors and the concerned authority with the intention to set up a proper book club in the college and was given the green light.

At present, the book club has 27 members and is focusing on the literary works of Naga writers. In the coming days, Alohomora will dive into different literary genre from across the globe such as non-fiction, fiction, sci-fi, mystery, self-help, poetry, psychology, etc.

The name of the book club Alohomora is inspired from a fictional spell from the Harry Potter book series. It is a spell used to open locks on doors and windows.

The first book club meeting was held on April 13, 2022 in the college's auditorium. Since the inception of the book club, two cycles of borrow-a-book has been conducted where the club members could borrow a book of their choice from the books available for a time span of one week.

It has been a wonderful experience to supervise the book club this semester and I express my gratitude to H Viputo Yeptho, the Literary and Cultural Secretary for being at the forefront in bringing the book club to life.

The book club is still in its cradle and I am optimistic for the future activities of the club. In the coming days, the book club will take up myriad interesting activities such as book reviews, swap-your-favourite-book, literary charade games and hopefully, meet-and-greet with prominent Naga writers among others. Constructive criticism and suggestions are always welcome to improve the book club.

As I bow out from supervising the book club, it is my earnest aspiration that the club members and the literature enthusiasts alike would help to create an environment of book reading and accelerate the appreciation of literature in the campus.

As Franz Kafka wrote "A book must be the axe for the frozen sea within us", let us adapt the beautiful art of reading and melt the blues of our heart.

Hope and prayers for Alohomora and all bibliophiles!

IN NAGALAND WAY FORWARD

*“It is the best of times,
It is the worst of times,
It is the age of wisdom,
It is the age of foolishness,
It is the epoch of belief,
It is the epoch of incredulity,
It is the season of Light,
It is the season of Darkness,
It is the spring of hope,
It is the winter of despair;
We have everything before us,
We have nothing before us,
We are all going direct to Heaven,
We are all going the other way in short,....”*

Charles Dickens

The above quoted lines from the famous work of Charles Dickens, “A Tale Of Two Cities” “we can pretty much relate to the present scenario of our beloved state Nagaland, it is true that we are living in the best of times, we are entertained daily with many new news about inventions and development, we live in times of wonder and miracle, impossible does seem possible in every way yet the contrary we live in the worst of times, crime of unimaginable takes place despite the advancement we live in, there is corruption, there is black marketing, there is human trafficking, people have disguise themselves in the best clothing yet underneath it, the real evil lies, there is so much light and yet there is so much darkness. Who is to be blamed for? Is it because we were so hostile to the changes ? Is it because we never really understood the real stigma?

Or the last question is because we are born with the thirst, thirst for power, thirst for knowledge, thirst for freedom, thirst for superiority? These are some few which can never settle down with the winds of change. The topic gives us so much to discuss about ourselves and our motherland. Where do we actually stand in this fast changing world ? Is our foundation strong enough to withstand the huge waves hitting and splashing on us ? We have undergone evolution that is transition of us being living in fear and darkness over our neighbourhood to that of the spirit of oneness. We learned that unity will bring us strength, we learned that Christian faith is the way to salvation, we learned that it is time to stop our head hunting practices and that real bravery is when you forgive and embrace your enemy, we learned that women and men can live and work together, we learned that education is the key to ultimate freedom. Through all these learnings, we sense the coming of modernity wave, is the wave safe enough to lead us to a brighter tomorrow or is it just a notion that we are trying to achieve. We come to a point that if we should consider modernity a threat to our embodied tradition of values and culture or is it our ignorance that is pushing our identity back and placing the new host ahead to take its toll on us, we need to analyse this situation by understanding the meaning of each word of the title and it straight leads to the word, "blending" what is it that really blends and what makes the perfect blending? To begin there is no such thing as perfect, everything has its own flaw and so in my point of view and yours.

The word blending is a mixture or a combination of two different things, now with the next word, "tradition" is a culture, custom or belief that is passed down through generations. While "modernity" is the state of being current, or up with the times. "The modernity of yesterday is the tradition of today, and the modernity of today will be the tradition of tomorrow", Jose Andres Puerta, quite true to the very last word of Mr. Jose, the changes that had taken place was the modernity of yesterday but like time growing it has set new bars for new modernity. Yesterday owing a head was considered brave and modern now it is pictured as vicious and backward, so was yesterday owing a Nokia, a handset was considered modern.

The Naga Society has started to live in two dimensions, the traditional and the modern era. The people of Nagaland have accepted modernity in professional work simultaneously, they continue to be traditional in personal life by retaining their values and attitudes. It must be said that tradition and modernity should co-exist in harmony, meaning they both should be in a balance state or in other words we can say one should not be superior than the other. We must keep in mind that the tradition and modernity should go hand in hand.

The modern period in Naga Society is said to have begun during the British colonisation as early as 1832 when the British captains travelled through the Angami territory. The arrival of Christian missionaries in state had greatly impacted the Naga Society from head hunting era to brotherhood. The advent of modernity in Naga Society thus took place owing to the colonial intervention, which paved a way for Christian missionaries to spread new religion. Miles Bronson who was the first missionary to the Nagas was believed to have arrived in 1839 and also the arrival of American Baptist Missionary E.W Clark and his wife Mead Clark established a school which was the first in Nagaland. Rev C.D King, Dr Rivenberg, Rev Dr Witter were the other Christian missionaries who worked among the Nagas. The Nagas were also recruited as labour crops in France during the First World War, which inhibited a strong socio-political foundation, thereby on return established the Naga club in 1918. Such development towards identity consciousness draws Nagas towards a modern era.

Thanks to the British and the American missionaries, who had made a tremendous change among the Nagas. Who knows if it weren't them, the Nagas would still be holding on to the indigenous faith and practices of their forefathers. In the mid 19th century, the Nagas were animists. Animism is the belief in the existence of spiritual beings inhabiting the natural world. Religion was embedded in our culture but just because we have come out of the traditional religion doesn't mean we have lost our culture. We must always keep in mind that the tradition is something we must be rooted into and it is something that is holding us back even though we live in this modern era.

The arrival of missionaries in Nagaland transformed Naga history. The conversion of the Nagas to christianity was the beginning of many great changes in Nagaland. It was the starting point of modernisation among the Nagas . Although the progress of christianity in Nagaland was very slow as the attitudes of the Nagas towards the missionaries was hostile in the beginning. The ones who converted to christianity were persecuted by their own clan and sometimes by the whole villagers. The activities of the missionaries were not merely confined to conversion but they also carried out other social activities such as medical care and formal education .At the same time when the concept of one God had been taught to the Nagas ,who believed in a number of spirits and had a religion with an accompanying set of elaborate rituals,they responded to the simplicity and the logic of the new religion. The so called glory that the Nagas derived by hunting the heads of their fellow men was replaced by a zeal for service to humanity. Christianity indeed has been the single most dynamic factor in modernising Naga society .It opened the door for the Nagas to think in a global context and brought them into the fold of a world family. The Nagas, once known and feared for their head-hunting practices were transformed into a modern society. Christianity uplifted the mental ,spiritual and physical lifestyle of the Naga people.

The effect of western culture is greatly seen in our customs,traditions ,social and moral behavior ,our love and respect for others .The western culture had greatly influenced the Nagas in many ways like,the dressing styles,eating habits ,way of living and many more. Westernisation has both good and bad impact among the societies depending on the people. It is good to adopt western culture but at the same one should not forget his/her tradition. Western culture is not altogether bad ,although it has made our life faster but enhanced the technology has also made our life easier and comfortable. We need to give importance to our culture and tradition which taught us good moral behavior and to live in peace and harmony with others by the way of increasing our tolerance and patience .Its time to realize both the goodness and harmful effects of western and our culture and adopt goodness and get rid of those cultural practices that are degrading the quality of human life. The influenced of korean culture among the Nagas is also a second wave of westernization. The youngsters of Nagaland are addicted to k-pop culture and have even started to imitate them in so many ways,like dressing styles , hairstyles etc.,.Not only young ones but even the grown ups are also influenced by their culture .Wearing of glasses was not so common before but now almost everyone,of course some wear under the condition ,that they are advised by the doctors or under the consultancy of the doctors but some people wear it just because it has become a fashion . Instead of only getting influenced by western countries why don't we promote and show our culture and tradition to the world so that they also get influenced by us and we by them?. We Nagas are adopting western culture and trying to fit in their shoes but first we must question ourselves whether we are rooted in our tradition or not. We can have an American or a British accent or we could be living in other western parts of the world but we can never become them and they will never accept us as their own. We must not let the good deeds and the legacy that our grandparents had inherited on us fade away but cherish them each and every moment of our life regardless of where we live and what we have become. Even though we maybe living in this modernised world we must never forget our forefathers and their good works.

When we look back at our young Nagaland she had the hills and mountains, our own field to work and toil upon, greenery and abundance of majestic flora and fauna, she was prosperous in greens but this did not provide enough for her children to survive in the times of change. Today we are in possession of many modern appliances, devices and equipments. One such example is the mobile phone which everyone is in possession. The invention of mobile phones has brought great relief to the people in general as one can use it for many purposes, like to communicate to different parts of the world, you are bored? YouTube and Netflix and Hotstar and more are there to lift your mood, there is Facebook and Instagram and whatsapp, to deliver your message and pictures to your friends and family, it is trying to create an easier mode of communication in all terms where back then, to convey messages it was done through pigeons and post office which would take several days to get to the addressed person but today we can send messages even that of emergency through messaging apps or call or via email. Life is easy as ABC is what our grandparents would say now. We can't go back to those days where our forefathers would have to walk miles and miles to go somewhere. We can't accept the fact that we have to walk by foot to go from Dimapur to Kohima when we have a proper transportation, that would save a lot of time, which we can invest it on something productive and beneficial. We think that our generation is more advanced than that of our grandparents and the same mindset our grandparents had about their forefathers and forefathers. The same thing, the same mindset, the upcoming generation will have about our generation and it will go on and on.

We have no idea how Nagaland would like tomorrow. Everything will seem to have turned upside down. When we look around, we see so many changes in our state and how we have evolved from traditional world to digital world. Have you ever wondered that we will be taken over by AI in the future?. The world will no longer need humans to do manual work since their will be robots that will be working for us and eventually people will lost their jobs and the survival will be difficult. It is obvious that technology has taken over the world and what we see in television will come into reality. What's the point of being educated or to have high qualification when we are not going to get any job?. Soon the mindset of the people will change and there will be a chaos all over the world and that's how modernisation will slowly impact each and everyone of us. We are so sure that this things will happen in the future because the world is advancing day after day and scientists are working on new inventions which can't be stopped.

my violin. From my point of view, he seemed normal, living life with all its highs and lows like any other person. But later on, did I realize how wrong I was in that judgment.

Occasionally, I'd notice that he would grow thinner than the last time I saw him, with sunken eyes and an unhealthy complexion. Over the months, I did not hear him play his violin anymore.

One time, I saw him coming home with a black plastic bag which he accidentally dropped and there, I saw the content inside: drug bottles and syringes. Rumors had it that he had arthritis and some health complications and was on medication. Hence, I shrugged it off as something normal and did not ponder at the sight before me.

A year later, he passed away from heroin overdose.

On the sixth day after his death, his brother found a letter in his violin case which he wrote weeks before the fatal day. He had known that he'd not survive long with his addiction and eventually gave up the battle, giving in. It was during these times that he wrote the letter about his unspoken struggle and demons.

Words fly fast and a day after, We came to know about the content of his letter.

His addiction to drugs was like a serpent's venom which overpowered his life.

It gripped him tightly and wouldn't let go.

In the letter, he explained how he first got into drugs. He was overwhelmed with the tremendous pressure and stress from his work and personal life that he started to develop unhealthy sleep cycles. To cope with insomnia, he started taking sedatives and this was the beginning of his three years enslavement to drugs.

Drugs made him love his life when he was under the influence and eventually, he'd get jolted back to reality. That was when he would take more stimulants, sedatives, and smoke cannabis to feel euphoric and forget about his depressed reality. He went on to explain how desperately he wanted to give up his addiction when he was sober. However, his addiction wouldn't let him.

He quoted himself as "A man stuck in a dungeon."

He wrote about how his drug addiction made it difficult to play the violin, the one thing he loved the most and over time, he kept his violin away in the case and never played it again.

(NB: This write-up is a work of fiction which was penned down for a writing competition to address the cruelty of drug addiction.)

He was buried three kilometers away from his childhood home, on an autumn morning. I saw him for the first time on a winter day, four years back. He was twenty-nine then, when he moved in next door with an office job. He was an enthusiastic young man living alone accompanied by his violin. Most early mornings, I'd hear him play from his room. It was always beautiful and sad like he was pouring his soul out on his violin. As neighbors, we'd talk casually when we cross paths. But never have I fathomed that he was silently battling something so horrendous and defeating that was slowly taking over his life.

He was a drug addict. In between the countable amount of times that we talked, he was always passionate about his forte of violin, which he called as il mio violino which means

He was left to choose between drugs or his violin and he chose the former.

He was filled with unexplainable remorse of ruining his passion to his addiction that eventually, he kept it all under the rug. And that it was better to forget than to live on with something he might never retrieve again.

I remember him playing Tchaikovsky's Violin Concerto Op. 35 second movement and sometimes, I try to imagine what he must have felt like during those dreadful years battling a cruel addiction and how he couldn't bring himself to seek help.

“He woke up in his room, yet again
Every day goes by painfully slow
Languid movement of the clock
Scattered bottles and syringes.
He had it all together, years back
Before he was pulled inside a dark dungeon
Which was cruel enough to never let him out.

Sometimes when he was clear-headed,
He'd listen to his old records
And cry for his old tryst with the strings.
His addiction took over his life

Threw water on his passion
And cruelly diminished his light.
How desperately he wanted to get out of it
But with every breath he took,
His addiction pulled him back to the dungeon.

Towards his last days,
He was desperate for light to enter his dungeon,
But it never did.
He silently battled and lost.

A cry of an old violinist!
Yearning to touch his soul strings again
His fingers yearned to play again
To dance on the strings of his il mio violino
But he could not bring himself to do it.
He gave in to his addiction
And he did not make it far.

I pray the other side would be kinder to him than he was to himself.”

Sometimes I wonder would he still be alive, had he reached out and sought help then. However he could not, and eventually, he lost against the cruel thing.

Drug addiction is real and cruel. It can take different forms.

Care not to fall prey. Seek help, reach out.

MY COLLEGE Journey of KSCJ

In a typical Kohima's summer of 2019, the sixteenth of July to be precise, along with the new fresh leaves and tentacles sprouting up, I too welcome myself joyfully as I entered Kohima Science College campus as I was guided by my senior. I still remember the first day of my College, wandering hither and thither, surrounded by strangers. In these three years of College life, I have encountered many new friends who are amicable and kind. There were a times, where we rushed to submit assignments and projects at the eleventh hour. With the passage of time I tried to deal with many challenges and obstacles to get to my destination. At the same time I also learn everyone has their own burden to carry. Every moment seems so interesting, such as spending time with friends, enjoying picnic, doing assignments, bunking classes, working together with friends as a team. College life isn't easy as we think because one has to be fully prepared to accept the challenges. These experiences have taught us to have faith in one's own ideas and believe in oneself and to strive for excellence. To enjoy ride one should appreciate both the light and dark side of life. There were not even a single moment to be regretted. College life was exciting along with stressful, anxious, nervous and victorious moment and I never thought that college life would end in the blink of an eye. Within these short time it was a blessing to encounter many supportive and helpful professors, seniors and batchmates. I wish I could rewind the good times because the memories created is never a waste. This college has help me grow spiritually, mentally and physically in order to overcome all the challenges ahead of my life. Even in time of pandemic professors had always give their best efforts to teach with whatever possible they can. Nevertheless, though we depart, our memories will always be immeasurable treasures to each and every one of us. I am so grateful to our lovely and caring classmates for being a good friends and making the college days memorable .I wish you all the very best for your thousands miles ahead because the journey of a thousand miles begin with a single step. May God bless KSCJ Family.

Speech by

Razouletuo Noudi

"He who only does what he can will always remain what he is" - Henry ford

A very good morning to each and every one present here. Respected Chief Guest, Principal, Vice Principal, lecturers, my dearest juniors, my seniors who will be stepping up the game to become our future leaders, and last but not the least, my most beloved batchmates. You are the reason why I've had the best time here.

Now, where do I start?

As I sit and reflect to write my speech, I am made to think about time; how it seems to fly so quick. Freshers to Parting social, time just went as a dream of sweet early morning.

As I reflect,

There is a lot for me to say; the beautiful KSCJ campus, the awesome lecturers, the library, the canteen, the hotels and hostels, and the very much talked about college bus! The list goes on.

Let me begin with myself.

I am Razouletuo Noudi, the Information and Statistical Secretary, EU former MIG (Mission Interested Group) leader and an NCC cadet. These positions, platforms and organisations that I've been a part of has taught me very meaningful lessons. I cannot fully express myself for what Kohima science college has blessed upon me.

My time here has been a roller coaster ride. Very much like being a part of the movie Jumanji. You can never know what will happen next.

I've found myself in the midst of a new whole world with faces that were once strange but are now unforgettable. The transition from strangeness to familiarity, from being a junior to senior and soon to be alumni, has been thrilling and pleasant. We have become friends and we have become family. Not forgetting those who even became couples (good for them!).

After joining this college, I went on to join NCC - a very disciplined and uniformed organisation which has literally built up a lot of my personalities, The Church - EU & CCF, an amazing journey for me to have been a part of, and now the student council, an opportunity to learn and unlearn a lot of things, got myself involved in a lot of social activities which the college organised and took part, from convergence fest '19 at St. Joseph College, freshers social, debate competitions and much more, in short i must say I had an amazing journey here in science college. And when I say amazing, I truly mean it. Science college is a deeply rooted name for me. And I believe it's the same for many of you.

Message to juniors:

Life is a race they say. Well, Race is not just a motion but it's the journey that makes us progress. So my juniors, never mix race with journey. Enjoy each moment of your life to the fullest not because it's good or bad but for the simple reason that it will not come again. Life is not easy, you can either complain because science college doesn't have enough buses, or you can rejoice because science college owns buses. Either you complain about it or enjoy it, life moves on. It's always the today that you cherish tomorrow.

Now let me get back to the Class of 2022, Bsc 6th sem of 11 depts and msc 4th Sem of 7 departments. we are also known as the batch of corona for the fact that corona reigned completely in our batch. However, despite all difficulties, from getting introduced to new study environment and isolation from physical activity, we've reached this huge milestone alive, wiser and stronger, I congratulate each and everyone of you (So let us all give us a big round of applause).

"the best of time is the worst of time"- Charles Dickens. We all had our fair share of ups and downs in college, but at the end of the day, what matters is how good a day is, and I believe each and everyone of you is leaving this place with tons of beautiful good memories and lessons.

Now at the end of our time as students, we have an opportunity: now is our time to take on the world and to find and pursue our passions. To quote unquote, "Leave a legacy." William Shakespeare once said, "Some are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them." In life we can't always count on being born great, or having greatness thrust upon us, but always remember that the opportunity to achieve greatness is within our grasp. Keep in mind that many of our social and political leaders and heroes started their lives as average people. As just one of you and me. Despite the mistake and failures we will make, and although we may be "average", we find that the average can achieve greatness, whether recognised by the world or just a few.

Omnia vincit labor – Hardwork conquers all. As our anthem sing to us, "let thy motto be our guide", We shall always remind ourselves the same and continue to strive for excellence and bring laurels to the College, state and our people.

If there's anything you take from today, remember that to "leave a legacy" and to "achieve greatness" is not to get money and recognition, it's to leave those whom you cross paths with a little more happiness and hope. We will remember one another not by grades or popularity but by our relationships, the kind of person you were, these are legacies. The kind we must leave. I wish the class of 2022 the very best. 3 years with you all has been a splendid one.

TOMORROW

through the lens of 'us'

In this world of rapid changing, high competitiveness, life without a plan for our future is a dead end, without a doubt. Only a countable land in the realm of miracle and luck, that too again, along with their constant hard work. The survival of fittest is what we are going through. With every inch of globalization we all have been affected directly or indirectly. The pace of common man seem to reach at maximum, but we never know. The present scenario have made us foresee what our tomorrow will look like. And it is unimaginably tough.

As far as Nagas are concerned, many are made to have their goals and aims, many choose their will, and many of us are a dead leaf turning every direction where the wind blows. Despite the tough challenging forces we must have a plan and go for it no matter what since rolling stone gather no moss. And, because there is no alternative.

The premier exam of our state is a target of many. The present ratio of clearing the exam stands at nearly 1:140. That denote that if we all appear, only 13 from our college will go through. And the figure will keep on soaring. Now we can imagine the level of competition. The other areas of competition like departmental exams, 3rd and 4th grade posts, are preoccupied by corruption, nepotism, tribalism, land ownership share. Meritocracy is a victim card. The government of the day cannot save our toil unless there is a revolutionary political upheavals.

Another area of life settlement is entrepreneurial career. Owing to the above stated hardships, people choosing entrepreneurship is mushrooming. But their growth and influences only tell us it isn't as fascinating as comparing to other state's business career. The low availability of raw materials, small exposure, rampant taxation from various undergrounds have woefully impacted the supposed-to-be most important sector for the growth of state economy. Other areas like sports, modelling, literature, etc. are just in its initial stage, or they haven't even begun. The support and exposure from the government is a far cry.

Lately, the government's huge deficit is a worrisome factor. Are we heading towards another Sri Lankan crisis?

Now, what if the vexed Naga political issue is solved? The Naga Political Groups (NPGs) denying Indian government offers taking us to another 1950's era of army atrocities. Or, Indian government agreeing with NPGs? Which type of government are they enforcing? Though their current dispensation only point us to socialists, communists, and even hierarchy. What if the present trend of power tussle among them erupts and another widespread bloodshed continue? What will be the aftermath?

Have we had a thought about it? What are our plans to combat such an opaque 'tomorrow' of us? Idling will only be a noxious weed. The magnanimity and sharpness of us should come into play. Lest, we rest in compunction to the last of our breath.

"Apes Together Strong"

“Apes together strong”, the motto we strongly held onto from the first semester.

It kind of took me a little time to process onto this motto, but as time passed by I did get to really know what it meant.

First semester was quite a hectic year if I had to recall, a bunch of new people, some rather noisy ones, quiet ones and not to forget an all rounder too. It was amazing to see that just within two weeks of college life, we got to see couples. Ahemm!! There was a bunch of rather extra loud people.. That would include me and my girls-so called “Hoopers” no one could laugh and be as talkative as we were... It was as though we owned the classroom. Of course the rather quiet classmate were annoyed of that but we couldn't help it. Well without knowing.. Time slowly passed by, we all somehow got to know some of our mates, started preparing for the exams, winter holidays and a new semester.

Second semester was just at the start of a new year together with classmates and thought it would rather be a fun time again... But unexpectedly, the outbreak of the covid pandemic ruined everything. We thought it was rather for a short period of time but days turned to weeks, weeks into months and from months to years. Our two years went by just with the online classes and exams. For most of us, I'm sure it was better this way since exams were all about “Copy-pasting” but at the same time, we were missing out on many things- the most important of it, our college life, which was supposed to be fun!!

Fifth semester was when we finally reunited, but Alas! Just few weeks of time together and we had exams again, everyone was rushing for notes, preparing for exams and yet another semester just went by like that.

The last semester-our final year together, it was somewhat a progress if I had to say. Though most of us we still don't know the names of most of our mates, the days we spent together were rather memorable. We encountered many snakes in the department., had tea time together, trips together and most of all we all had a fun time together. As the Cr it wasn't easy for me, sometimes I cried when none was willing to do the things requested.. Lol.. Cringe moment! I was annoyed at times, sad and frustrated at the same time but, what I was really grateful about at the end was.. I got such wonderful mates. You all made me feel like a “Gangster leader” more like a “Boss”. It was fun! At the end everything had to come to an end.

My dear mates, I just want you all to know that my time with you all have been so fun and memorable and these last few days we spent the time together, I'll always cherish it. As we all get on board to start a new journey, I wish you all the very best in whatever you do. Best wishes to everyone. We shall all meet soon again- One day-Reunion trip it is ♥

And always remember-
“If we hold on together, I know our dreams will never die.

Dreams sees us through to forever

Where clouds roll by

For You and I. “

I'll miss you All Dear Apes!

Fresh Wine

*In the beginning was the word before the light
That banished darkness and cradled cosmos to life
The creation echoes His Glory,
Heaven and Earth stand witness,
These words proclaim a King who is the way, truth and the life.
To ensure our eternity,
the abstract turned concrete in flesh
He who spoke through lightning now preached parables,
The King who fed us the Manna now offers the living bread,
The God whose command split seas now calls man to walk on it.
My hands that stretched for praise also labored in sin,
My mind clung to past longer than it should've been,
But piercing the silence, when His voice called this sinner by name,
I couldn't restrain myself to sing, dance and run out of the cave.
I was the prodigal, the wicked and lazy servant
I buried my gold, squandered my wealth,
But before repentance came to my lips,
Your hug came first, and the finest robe was put on me.
Salvation seemed far-fetched as I drenched in sin,
But He kneeled down to wash my filthy feet clean
The healer opened the eyes that was once blind,
The living water has made me into a Fresh wine.
As I steadily learn to obey Him
I see His plan to prosper me,
The notion of competition slowly dissipates from mind,
Piece by piece I find my purpose in Him.
So this is a message to the eyes that read,
Take heart! For His Hand is upon you,
And should you ever feel crushed, remember this,
He has chosen your fruit to make a fresh wine.*

In 'HER' lap!

*When everything seemed falling apart.
I find peace on 'HER' laps;
'HER' lap is that cradle.
Where my heavy heart would rest,
And it always felt that the worst of things
Will become the best !
'SHE' began to love me,
Even before I was born.
That love was patient and forgiving,
When all others were forsaking!
It never failed or falter ....
Eventhough 'HER' heart was burning.
When I was tired .
When I couldn't think of anything ;
All I wanted was to lay my head on 'HER' lap.
Feel 'HER' hand on my head ,
And remain like that through all eternity .
That moment I m on 'HER' lap
I realise that I m at the right place ,
But then !
It makes me shiver to think that ?
She taught me everything .
Except to live without 'HER'....*

DAWN IN THE MORNING

*Dawn in the morning,
Woke up earlier ahead of time
Overwhelmed with excitement for class
Indeed a great start!
As the sun rose up,
Things began to change*

*Covid ?..... Lockdown!?
Yet the experience of online class
Was indeed great too.
In the midst of the evening,
Pop up out of nowhere
Loaded with assignments, practicals
And a titans like syllabus eagerly waiting.
Uff what a great time it was!
Dusk at night,
Memories were created
Remembering the joyous days we had
Sweet yet bitter
For our great time is gone.*

Unreachable sky

*Your radiant smile
Burned my heart.
The wrath of the sun
Could never burn my heart.
Like you do.*

*If I could I would've,
Burn your heart into mine.
Yet your heart is an unreachable sky.
More I reach my heart out in my brittle fingers.
The higher you go.*

*The further you flutter away.
The Nightingale cries out tonight.
For you are an unreachable sky.
Maybe when the sky falls.
Maybe I'll reach you then.
Maybe when the swans
Line up in the crimson sky.*

*Maybe I'll reach you then.
Autumn evenings could never.
Be as radiantly beautiful as you are.
My unreachable sky
Forever you're Unreachable
Forever you're unreachable.*

SIDED

*Gleaming eyes,
Beauty beyond paradise
Unconquerable soul;
Fall fall fall;
Everyday every second;
It punctures my heart
You could never be mine;
Lost in fantasies;
You could never be mine:
Lost for words
Lost in your paradise,
I wish the night sky is pretty
Wherever you are;
The cosmos and the galaxies are never too far
We're just a sight away from each other
Under the shadows of billions of stars as you.
We're always near yet too far from reach.
The same night sky.
The same golden moon,
That tiny little hope,
Maybe someday you'll realise;
Maybe someday you'll know,
What I have for you;
Drugs could never:
Get me high, like the way you do me:
This heart aches;
Knowing you could never be mine.
But the sight of you numbs every pain within Someday when the universes collide. May you know;
That pure feeling of love
That's been always with me
For you all along.
I'd still have billions of Choices,
But this heart of mine
Will always long for you.*

*Sunny? It's nothing less than a hot pan
Chilly? You stick to whomever you possibly can Ever got sandwiched by rotund dudes?
Try the college bus; the one renewed
Battles; a common sight at spots
Ladies, habitually ready to dash and hop
Life full of hustle and bustle
For the blue seat, there's some tussle
As it gets swarmed by the brutal crowd
Even the bus squeals and wails out loud
Some accept defeat, not climb at all
Some face defeat, hold and stand tall
Some quick and fierce; push, pull and rush
They'd kill, for a blue seat in the bus
Those sitting humans, "grannies" we call
The unhappy standing passengers??
"Zombies" as they hobble and fall
Tall, small, posh or wild
For the blue seat, they all act like a child.*
