Photography Secretary

The Earth is art and I am but a witness.

It's crazy to imagine that a year ago, I was but a member of the team and now I sit here typing down this entry with nothing but love and gratitude for the past 9 months I have had, being your Photography Secretary.

Gratitude's depths are unfathomable, words inadequate to express the unwavering appreciation and respect I have for the incredible, most talented community I have been part of, the glories we have achieved together and the whispers of love and laughter that will echo through time.

A special nod of appreciation goes out to my advisor, Dr Palab Changkakoti for the unfaltering support and kindness he has shown me; and to my team of photographers: Lentsuba, Pangshei Phom, Adani Kayia and Noksenkhumla- thank you for your sheer dedication and hard work into making the team what it is today. A shining tribute to the members of the Media Team as well for making strenuous work hours all the more bearable.

I hope the work I've done in my tenure has captured the humanity in the moments. I hope that when you look back at the memories of this year through my pictures, you find the poems I have found with my camera.

*Some people are artists,
some, themselves, are art*

Thank you KSCJ for being the most amazing muse

This experience has, is, and will forever be my Roman Empire.

To close, in the words of J. Cole:

"Nothing lasts forever, but at least we've got these memories"

Cultural Secretary

Firstly, all glory and honour to our almighty God. It has been an honour and privilege to have served as the Cultural Secretary of Kohima Science College Student's Union for the tenure 2023-2024.

I am thankful to the institution for providing me with this wonderful opportunity to develop myself into a better version of me in all aspects of life. The wisdom and knowledge I've gained in this short tenure will forever remain with me wherever I go. It has been an challenging journey and though it seemed impossible, I am very glad as all activities undertaken during my tenure has been a resounding success, of which would not have been possible without my faithful colleagues. Some proposals and efforts could not be made due to the time constraints and unavoidable circumstances. But despite all these shortcomings, Origin fest'24, under the theme "Cultural Kaleidoscope", resulted in a grand success. It is with this that I offer my profound gratitude to my advisor Mrs. Moarenla Longkumer, the higher authorities and the student community. All these would not have been possible without your constant support. Thank you so much everyone.

Long live Kohima Science College.

Boys' Welfare Secretary

Letters like this one are never easy to write because I hate to say goodbye and ending my time on the council representing you as the Boys Welfare Secretary (2023-2024) is bittersweet. Over the last 2 semesters, we have all worked together to build a better stay in College through smart and strong community engagement with the help of Respective department Crs.

We have made historic progress in my tenure as your at large contribution, fundamentally changing how our college support and prepare students for academic and personal success. In this final report, I thought it would be good to highlight much of what we have accomplished together since I was first sworn in. Your engagement and support have resulted in meaningful victories in every area we have worked including education, health, cleanliness and hygiene. The installation of Water purifier under my tenure as the Boys Welfare Secretary right outside the Boys Common Room would not just serve drinkable water for the malefolks but for the whole masses in general.

When I kicked off my first campaign in August 2023, I ran with the intention of serving with full dedication. I have always believed at my core that my duty comes first before anything but I may have failed to do my duty deligently, for the institution. I am saddened that my time on the Council is coming to a close and I apologized for any inconveniences caused, but I am also excited to have kept my promise and pass the baton to the next crop of progressive leaders. There is so much that I had hoped to accomplish which now falls to them. All of what is left to be done is now under the next fruitful tenure of an able Secretary under the wise guidance of Sir Imlisunup Pongener(Advisor). Please stay safe and continue to believe in science. Thank you for putting your trust in me over this tenure

Signing off Sincerely,
Mughabeto Chishi

Girls' Welfare Secretary

First and foremost, I give all glory and honour to our almighty God for these wonderful opportunities. Serving the college as the Girls Welfare Secretary has been such a great experience for me. The endless meetings between and after the class, working late for different programs (literally 'burning the midnight oil' LOL!), attending amazing programs at different places and not forgetting the wonderful people of kscj students and my dear fellow executives. They say "life is a collection of moments and every experience makes you grow". I have learnt and grown so much during my tenure of working in the Students council.

Some of the facilities and works done are:

1. Free sanitary pads for the girls.
2. Renovation of the girls common room and the Syrene garden.
3. Purchased of light bulb and fixed it in all the washrooms.
4. New tables, chairs, brite and water filter in the girls common room.
5. New buckets, mugs, brooms, dustbins, gloves and necessary bathroom essentials were provided.
6. Rain water gutter and necessary equipments along with (1x) 500 litres syntax was purchased for the rainwater harvesting method.

I also extend my humble gratitude to my advisor, Asst. Professor Shepolu for her guidance and support throughout my tenure.

God bless KSCJ!

Nature's Club Secretary

As I reflect upon my tenure as the Nature's Club Secretary at Kohima Science College for the academic year 2023-24, I am overwhelmed with gratitude for the remarkable journey we have undertaken together. This past year has been characterized by growth, unity, and a shared dedication to environmental stewardship.

One of the most notable achievements during my tenure was the introduction of our new Nature's Club shirts. Should anyone ever dare to cast doubt upon the productivity of our club, we can merely display these splendid garments to refute such claims! Not only did these shirts serve as a symbol of our collective identity, but they also fostered a sense of pride and belonging among our members. I am delighted to report that this initiative struck a chord with our student body, resulting in a record-breaking 146 new members joining our ranks—an accomplishment that speaks volumes about the burgeoning interest in environmental conservation within our college community.

I want to extend my heartfelt thanks to everyone who contributed to the success of the Nature's Club this year, from the dedicated executives to the enthusiastic members who brought our initiatives to life. Together, we have proven that hard work truly conquers all—Omnia Vincit Labor.

As I bid adieu, I'm struck by the transformation this journey has sparked in me. From one who scarcely spared a thought for nature to now, one who considers its importance, even if just a little, this experience hath left a lasting impact on me.

KSCJ Media Team

Following the appointment of the new KSCSU executives, the idea of forming a media team was proposed by the IQAC during a meeting with the cell on August 23, 2023. Soon after, in the same month, the KSCJ Media Team came into being. What followed next was the heavy task of finding capable and committed individuals who could work with the team. After lengthy discussions, multiple meetings and debates, the first batch of content writers and editors was selected. What started off with a group of twelve people, grew into a big family of eighteen members after the second batch of content writers and editors were recruited later in February 2024. The KSCJ Media Team records all events and activities, no matter how big or small, that take place at or are associated with the institution via writing, filmmaking, and photography.

Since its establishment, the media team has covered over sixty events in and related to the college. The team has handled media coverage. Publicising the college has been a top priority from the very beginning. We have accomplished a significant milestone as a team. We have had our difficult times but each one of us has learned from it. We have grown from a group of strangers to friends to a big (busy) family. The Media Team will continue to strive for the institution's progress. We hope the team keeps reaching new heights in the days ahead.

Best wishes,

KSCJ CHOIR

My journey with the choir has been a beautiful experience, I've built friendships, and grown so much during my time with them.

From the very first practice it has been a journey of growth and discovery, both musically and personally. Being a part of the choir has taught me patience, discipline and perseverance as we all strove for excellence in every performance. Through the highs and low, bound by our shared passion for music, the choir became a second family the shared laughter, nods of encouragement and the joy of creating something beautiful, are things I'm sure every choir member will cherish.

Being a part of the choir wasn't just all about singing, it taught me to embrace challenges with courage and resilience, knowing that every obstacle was an opportunity for growth and that teamwork was what made the 'dream work'.

I pray that the choir will continue to grow and create beautiful music in the years to come, God bless!

Life after KSCJ

"Too much sanity may be madness – and maddest of all: to see life as it is, and not as it should be" – Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra, Don Quixote

Within the thronging surrounds of the lauded Kohima Science College, Jotsoma, the fall of 2019 came jammed with flurry of academic pursuits and vibrant crescendos of new contingencies. Armed with a passion for literature, I had the distinct honour of donning the mantle of the Literary and Cultural Secretary, a role that not only filled me with a sense of purpose but also led me on an exhilarating journey of growth and discovery. Days were brimming with creativity and innovation where every event became an opportunity to weave together the tapestry of talents within our college community. However, the loom of the Covid-19 Pandemic threw us a curveball with our greatest test yet, where the echoes of a silent storm reverberated through our college campus, as social distancing measures forced us to reimagine our events in a virtual landscape. Nevertheless, the challenge also became a catalyst for change in embracing the digital realm, pioneering the shift to online publications.

Our monthly newsletters, once a tangible token of inspiration, found a new life in the vast expanse of the internet marking the genesis of the digital journey in our literary endeavours. Our initiatives transcended mere entertainment, fostering a sense of expression and a platform of unity within the student's body all in all. Through shoutout sections, lockdown innovations, sketches and poetries and many more, we ignited sparks of passion that illuminated the strings of connection when physical gatherings became a distant memory. Through and through, there was silver lining.

Serving as the Literary and Cultural Secretary was about becoming a jack of all trades. It taught me invaluable lessons in resilience, adaptability and collaborations. Through late-night planning sessions, navigating through the intricacies of event organizing, to juggling multiple responsibilities, I discovered the profound joy that comes from working tirelessly for the welfare of others. Looking back to my time working as an executive for the Student's Body, one constant remains – the incredible team I had the privilege to work with.

I'm filled with a sense of gratitude and pride to have worked alongside the other members of the executives who were intellectually passionate and dedicated in serving the college community. My tenure as the Literary and Cultural Secretary was more than just a title – it was a testament to the transformative power of art, literature and community engagement. Here's to the dreamers, the storytellers and the cultural connoisseurs.

Omnia Vincit Labor. With endless possibilities!

Sitsino Liegisie
Literary & Cultural Secretary 2019-2020

Approaching the one year mark since graduation, life after Kohima Science College has been an enriching journey of exploration and growth. The experiences I've encountered have been diverse and invaluable, shaping my perspective and preparing me for the challenges ahead. KSCJ's impact on my life is profound; it provided me with opportunities to develop skills in communication, leadership, and critical thinking that extend far beyond the realm of academic pursuits.

As a former Literary Secretary, I'm particularly grateful for the chance to enhance my organizational and social skills. I'm forever grateful for the friendships forged and the lessons learned during my time at KSCJ. I miss the sense of community since leaving the most, and more. As I continue on my path, pursuing my interests, I carry with me the lessons of collaboration, perseverance, resilience and creativity instilled by my involvement in and out of the classroom.

Long live KSCJ!

My Journey as a Hostel Prefect

It has been an honor for me to have served as the prefect of the sole government girls hostel (Leone) at KSCJ. Though the role of prefect came with its share of challenges, it was also a source of self growth.

I thank my fellow mates and my juniors for their constant support and cooperation throughout my tenure. As I reflect on my journey as the prefect, I am filled with gratitude for the opportunity to serve my hostel.

In my senior year of college, I was appointed as the prefect to my hostel. I was responsible for various activities within the hostel.

My biggest challenge was finding a suitable way to respectfully lead a group of peers that I had to interact with daily outside my leadership roles. I learned to appreciate the careful preparation and hard-work that went into the smooth running of the hostel. Most importantly, the experiences enabled me to developed the ability to work effectively in a team, which improved my leadership skills. I have gained more confidence and improved my communication skills through this role.

My Journey as a Class Representative

BSC 6TH SEM, ANTHROPOLOGY

Long story short, my journey in KSCJ as a CR was sweet as well as sour. I never knew handling a class will be both hectic as well as rewarding. Hectic in terms of opinions clashing in class and rewarding in terms of understanding how to be calm and rational at the same time. Be it all, it's a journey which I'll always remember and cherish.

BSC 6TH SEM, CHEMISTRY

Being a class representative in college can be a leadership role with many benefits. Though it was quite challenging at times, it was also an opportunity where I could develop myself and enhance skills like negotiating and working in teams. It had allowed me to experience the joy of working with my classmates and friends in our college. This journey would not have been possible if it was not for the constant support that my classmates gave me. I am very blessed to have them as my classmates and now as we part our ways from here on, I hope and pray that they will do well in life.

Being elected as a class representative was both an honor and a responsibility that I embraced wholeheartedly. It marked the beginning of a journey filled with challenges, growth, and rewarding experiences. It wasn't always smooth sailing. There were moments of frustration and setbacks, but each challenge became an opportunity for personal and professional growth. I learned the importance of resilience, adaptability, and perseverance in the face of adversity.

As my term as class representative comes to an end, I reflect on the lessons learned and the friendships forged. Serving my classmates has been a privilege, and I am grateful for the trust they placed in me. While my journey may be ending, the impact of our collective efforts will continue to resonate within our class and beyond. Once again I would like to thank all my mates.

Sitting at the front and my friends pointing at me when Sir asked to choose a class representative- This is how I became CR of M.sc batch 2022-2024 (Chemistry Dept). I would describe my CR journey at KSCJ as a cocktail journey. In short, I had to deal with 17 opinions, gather consensus and take it to the management and negotiate with them for the class. At the same time the rules or notices by the management have to be made accepted by my mates. Hence, the cocktail. Although being made a CR unknowingly, I would say that this experience has developed my personal and professional leadership and collaborating with the management to a very good extent. In short it was a fun and amusingly unprectictable journey. Lastly, to all my classmates I would like to say "Thank You" for giving me the opportunity and All the Best in your life journey.

Love, an Epiphany
Jeremiah 31:3 (NIV)

The Lord appeared to us in the past, saying, 'I have loved you with an everlasting love; I have drawn you with unfailing kindness.'

Where had I been all this time,
When You were watching over me?
During my steepest struggles of never being enough
You called me, out poured Your love.

Kindness so loving, You held me by hand
When nights grew darker;
No stars to light my lampstand.
You were there, You showed me
Love could be white, an even brighter light.

Words of knowledge, undecipherable prophecies
They don't remain, yet Love does.
Even more than enduring tongues
Love paints a canvas of sun red dust.

Where is an end to this profound love,
That neither height nor any creation presents unable to separate Father and sons?
They once told me, you cannot love a fellow creature
Until you love God.
Love maintained, love unfailing
Beyond colours outnumbered,
It is something worth more comprehending.

“A Wild Flower By The Fence”

Browns that fiercely embraced me gently kissed away by the warm travellers says,
'Good Luck!'.
“How magnificent the creator is!”. The divine up above a miracle sheltering the grey,
no eminence can compare. Golden rays blesses me ,
Clearest crystals falls on me,
And the gentle travellers kisses me clean.
What more do I want?

Old- birds sings praise of the Peony in the Garden
I only know of.
The divine's asleep;
Where are these crystals from ?
Blunt- old- bird dropped off a petal .
A glance is all one demands for dusts to tell its divinity.

Roots nescient as that may have crossed the fence;
“Lay Low!”.
How dare a Wild Flower compare to the Glorious Peony?
Had a dust dwelt,
it'd be just another red rose the
Garden can tell.

Was it the Garden or its serenity to blame?
No birds can tell,
Nor the dense roots can.
And those old- birds sings tale of –
“A Wild Flower By The Fence!”

The Divine Embrace

From the Terrestrial paradise
To the first sin
From the partition of the Jordan river
To the crumbling of the Jericho wall
From the night of Bethlehem
To the dawn of Golgotha
You were meant for the most beautiful things, that mankind would ever know.

Yet, you found this little soul
You found me to have a purpose
Was I the sheep that went astray?
Was I the prodigal son?
Was I Barabbas in another lifetime?

Overpassed my seventy- seven, yet I was forgiven.
Undone by your very being
Away from your word
But your grace remained
Your love stayed through and through.

Sunshine

A glimpse of golden rays that hit my eye,
A blue canvas— visible as grey clouds goes by,
Your outlined silhouette from the light behind,
And butterflies upon flowers in the sunshine.
Pauses upon phrases when I gaze at you,
Just away from space and peeps taken few,
Compelling your image is, my sinews intertwine
In warmth my heart beats, in winter's sunshine.
A rush of blood into my cheeks runs in a mile,
With your crescent eyes on me as you smile,
Never ending ecstasy when I know you're mine,
As the darkness draw nigh, you're my sunshine.

Eric Turney

My Utopia
Three years ago,
I started creating my Utopia.
My efforts paid off
And right there, stood my Utopia.

The bold, the meek,
The arrogant and the calm.
The jolly, the melancholic,
The tiny and the tall.

At times we make merry
At times we disagree.
Creating memories
For us to flourish.

To be a part of my Utopia,
Bring along your harmonica.

HOME

In you, I findeth home
Little do ye know of a heart thou healed which they broke not.
O how shall'st I live bereft of thee now?
Verily! the very tho't bringeth misery.
Eagerly my heart prepareth to gaze upon thee
for I fear for the day which must come.
Yet, mine heart findeth peace alongside thee.
O perhaps thou art the solace I sought a lifetime.
Ushering thee into mine heart as I sayeth to thee, a message if thee searcheth from the beginning of each line.

Love, in its purest form

And it so happened once, twice he thought never again,
No more of happy lies, tears, eyes gazing window panes,
Plating his heart with steel, immune to all pain
But she came to speak once, twice he fell in love again

And for a minute she'd be closer than his skin,
Another minute, she's a part of his own kin...
Every petal is just the blush of him seeing her face
The stars just a copy of the radiance on her face

She's got him calm like a night of spring,
Makes him feel nothing less than a beautiful being,
Smiling as she came, this time he couldn't go wrong
Love, was beginning to be in its purest form...

Just a thought of her brings sleep to his eyes
He'd trade the world's gold for a look in her eyes
Shun the sparrows to hear her sweet voice again
A glimpse at her freckles and boy! He forgets his pain

She'd hunt snakes for lunch, climb trees for fun
He'd kill time with words and sing under the sun
She'll speak for him when he'd love his silence
He'll write for her until her pain is undone...

Ruopñukuo Solo
English, 6th semester

There's always something about her to love,
Every lining looks silver, her smiles calm his shivers
The land becomes soft, the water tastes cleaner
When she'd smile him, the grasses look greener

One thing he wishes for, silly prayers he'd say every night
Snap his fingers and find her smiling beside
To gaze her dainty nose, her eyes of pastelled cinnamon
Her blushing so contagious, he struggles to stay innocent.

But He knows this will too pass like waves onshore
Should he give it all or give up he's not sure
And He's loving his delusion of children and wedding cards
A dash of her kindness and down goes his guard...

Behold your miracle, your usual work oh Lord,
This man has rose up from the grave again
His dormant heart beats to love again.
He can fight giants and demons of any form
Love, has begun to be in its purest form

The head is over his heels, his heart ready to sing,
Tears have dried and his soul willing to swing
She is the sound of his night, the calmness in his storm
Love, has learned to be in its purest form...

And He'll remember her words and precious smiles
Cherish their talks and walks of several miles
She'll stand strong with him when he feels torn
And That, he calls love. Love, in its purest form.....

UNLOCKING THE POWER OF CURIOSITY

In a world of constant change and innovation, one skill stands out as essential for success: curiosity. Curiosity is not a trait possessed by the select few; it is a mind-set that can be nurtured, leading to a lifetime of learning and growth. Understanding the importance of curiosity can shape our academic pursuits and beyond. It can be termed as the key to lifelong learning.

At its core, curiosity is the spark that ignites the flame of learning. It is the un-satiable desire to understand the world around us, to question why things are the way they are, and to seek out new knowledge and experiences. It is the fuel for learning new things each day. Without curiosity, education becomes a mere chore, a checklist of tasks to be completed rather a journey of discovery.

In the realm of academia, curiosity is a driving force behind ground-breaking research, innovative ideas, and intellectual exploration. Students who approach their studies with curiosity are not content with memorizing facts and figures; they seek to delve deeper, to uncover the underlying principles and connections that shape their chosen field.

Curiosity can be termed as embracing the unknown. It always thrives in the face of uncertainty. Curiosity is the willingness to venture into the unknown, to ask questions that have never been asked before, and to challenge the status quo. By embracing uncertainty, we open ourselves to new opportunities and possibilities for growth.

Curiosity is not limited to the classroom or lecture halls; it is a lifelong companion that can enrich every aspect of our lives. Whether it be exploring new hobbies, Travelling to unfamiliar places or engaging in meaningful conversations with others, curiosity allows us to see the world with fresh eyes and an open mind.

Fortunately, curiosity is a skill that can be forged, developed and strengthened over time. By fostering an environment that encourages questioning, exploration and creativity, educators can empower students to become lifelong learners. Encouraging students to pursue their passions, follow their interests and think critically about the world around them can help cultivate a sense of curiosity that will serve them well throughout their lives.

In a rapidly changing world, curiosity is more important than ever before. By embracing curiosity as a guiding principle in our academic pursuits and beyond, we can unlock the door to a lifetime of learning, growth and discovery. So, let us dare to ask questions, to explore the unknown and to never stop wondering about the wonders of the world around us.

"The important thing is not to stop questioning. Curiosity has its own reason for existing." ~Albert Einstein.

I AM LOVED BY GOD

I am loved by God
How happy I am to find His love.
I have been found to be in murky waters.
Life develops into being oblong. With an unequal abutting side.
En attendant, I ascertain rays of light
From every corner of square with a letter 'LOVE'.
I realised I am unloved from my aspiration.
But He waits for me to turn from evil
Ways with much patience.
Just as I am, He welcomes me With open arms; How can this be?
God loves me while I am still a sinner.
I believe in His love for me.
I have heard someone whisper
'I have loved you with an everlasting love'.
No disappointment dwells your eyes
Nor does shame but only pride. I He is Love
Father; I am Loved by you.
Your love is made perfect in me.
In my incompleteness, God loves me completely.
Amidst my imperfections,
He loves me perfectly.
My fears are gone, I am set free
God quenches the thirst of my soul;
And the longing of my heart.
His love is my Supreme guide for enjoying the gift eternal life.
He is my Master Creator;
He is deliberate in this dealings of me.
His love abounds from
His infinite goodness and mercy.
His love, an inextricable bond.
Today, God makes His home in my heart,
For I am His child and that's all it matters.

"Artificial Intelligence is Inevitable and Initiative"

Artificial Intelligence or A.I. is a non-human intelligence producing results just like how a human would. Massive datasets are fed to a computer through a process called "machine learning". These neural computers gather and fetch almost every kind of data available on the internet. From there it compiles all data, and sorts it out according to the relevance and so on. Artificial intelligence is present everywhere in this era. It is the sole reason why social networking sites like Facebook, Instagram, X (previously Twitter), YouTube, etc., recommend their users various types of content based on the engagement a user has with one or multiple types of content. Every little engagement a user has with a post feeds data to the computer, which is the A.I. and creates an algorithm to suit the user's preferences. Artificial intelligence on the outset is a very helpful tool. It is useful in the way that it helps the end-user work much more efficiently. For example, in data management or even in research for studies and various other fields where gathering of data is a must since it is able to sort out and gather information much quicker than most other tools that may provide the same service.

One can benefit a lot through artificial intelligence but nonetheless we need to address the disadvantages of having such technology too. In the recent years from 2021 till present day, the availability of A.I. companies like 'OpenAI' has been a threat to many people and professions. Controversies have surrounded the open availability of A.I. ever since the introduction of OpenAI's 'ChatGPT'. Of course, there exists other engines, however ChatGPT shook the world in the online space due to its immense capabilities. It was not something we could think of. It affected educational institutes and businesses as well. The heavy use of ChatGPT by students to do their home-works, assignments and projects, leaving the students with little space to learn the topics which they were supposed to learn. It posed a major threat and still does to the educational system around the world. Hence, the ease of access to such powerful tools has caused distress among the masses as it leaves the end-user to work easy but in turn makes the individual ultimately very dependent on it.

There are also threats to the creative industry like art, music and the likes of such. We now have A.I. engines which can make a song from scratch or a piece of artwork with just word prompts. It requires minimal effort and totally disregards the people who actually give the time and effort to perfect those skills. The art industry has suffered the most with the emergence of A.I. engines like MidJourney, StableDiffusion and Dall-E, to name a few which are arguably the better ones out there albeit its ultimate threat to artists. More controversies surround A.I. due to the fact that it is fed copyrighted works of people. The developers have faced lawsuits in this regard on the basis of 'stealing content' which is totally valid as many of the developers use these copyrighted works for training their A.I. model without proper permission from the owner leading to the results the engines produce being termed as "copyright infringement". The fact that the developers deny these allegations also make the whole rebuttal even more suspicious and build distrust upon distrust. However, no matter how much we try to stop it, it is simply impossible. It is inevitable that we are going to fall short and become victims to the very thing we created. It poses a huge threat even now and the way we are progressing with technology would only bring us closer to it.

Even now in the 21st Century, we are very dependent on A.I. in our daily lives. It will not be long till we completely surrender to it. Although there have been certain restrictions on the use of A.I. we cannot escape from it. It is only a matter of time till we succumb to it. People have developed countermeasures to fight A.I. using A.I. itself which is sad and ironic. It is like humans cannot compete against A.I. so we have to fight A.I. with A.I. which brings a huge reality check on the way we are progressing. Sure, it is possible to make more anti-A.I. softwares or engines but in the end we still succumb to A.I. regardless.

A.I. has very impressive benefits for efficient working and having more work done per hour than before but the inevitability of us surrendering to A.I. is a guaranteed cause and we are only to be prepared for it since there is no real way to stop it other than to isolate oneself from technology completely.

A SACRAMANT OF LONGING

If not a Hindu, let me be a Catholic
 You bore me, Baptizer
 Your pool is stagnant, I need a deeper sea
 Let me offer Him a sacrament
 An appeal to bring back tradition

Between me and Him is a scared vow
 Between men is an ordinary exchange
 The only time I felt truly alive
 When I was dipped in a beautiful state of immersion;
 Oh, Baptism's sublime tide!

But that was just once and never to experience again
 Except when I celebrate His Resurrection
 Then, I adorn white from head to toe
 And consume His blood
 And partake His portion...
 What else have I?

So, allow me to perform a ritual to Him
 I want to feel alive but, again.

Eloi, if you won't turn your face away from me
 If not a Hindu, let me be a Catholic.

To the seniors I truly cherish.
 A letter to the outgoing Media Team members.

May April caress you with reminiscent sincerity.
 With remains and trails of your footprints in the sand,
 Certainty will assure you
 That you lived a lifetime worth a thousand memories.
 Maybe this was worth all the time and dedication.
 This was all worth it in the end. You made it. All the worries, late-night compilations and countless schedules will be shadowed by the fragments of memories. And these memories, with each of their own will be etched into your very own bones.

For many, it has been a beautiful epilogue; you have cried, laughed, been hurt, overwhelmed, stumbled and loved. All these have taught you to be the person you've become today. For some, a prologue. The feeling of the end might just have been the beginning. But remember, beginnings are always beautiful because everything you'll ever want is marked by this beginning. Go on, you only live once.

The real world awaits you. These past years have been the very best. You believed you could, and so you did.
 Congratulations on making it this far.
You believed you could, and so you did.
 Everything turned out okay in the end, didn't it?

I loved.
 I loved in all moments when camera lights flickered over crowded silhouettes and brightly painted skies.
 I loved the Samsung screen that slid through every screen and the digicam that captured moments of sudden ecstasy.
 I loved when ethereal daytime sunshine faded into crimson horizons high, when a single hangout was the first and last time we would ever come by together.
 I loved when stains of pen ink etched down words on paper, and became a remnant of ourselves embedded within our second homes.
 I loved the table that stretched long enough to feed a big family. I loved the noise that echoed through tall halls and existing four-cornered walls.
 I loved the sound of laughter, shadows of dancing disasters.
 From waking up to the sound of alarms sprinting to a venue, to realising reports were due.
 In the midst of everything,
 I loved you all, and I still do.

Here's to a memoir that remains. A part of us that stays, I keep them as I go on once again, to another summer. The same summer will come, but it will never be the same again.
 To the first iteration of the Media team, thank you for making me be a part of it all.
 May your journeys be as sweet as the memories you made.
 Vale Amicis, we'll see each other again (After all, we're the Media Team)

Love,
 The member that gets to stay in the team for another year.

A picture of an old African man caught my eye. Working on this portrait, took me to another dimension. It showed me my old self in regret and pain, plucking a bitter fruit I harvested. Therefore, I name this portrait "Echoes of Youth": An old man dwelt in the past, regretting if he could rewind the time or rectify each youthful crime.

Adieu

It all comes to an end,
Our petty arguments,
Our ephemeral prejudices,
All makes us more precious.

Three years is not long,
Though the bond shared, is strong.

I believe there's a possibility
For us
to cross paths
Regardless of the uncertainty.

Hope, faith and love
The greatest being love,
That which one receives,
Remains forever cherished.

Your Media Team journey so far

AKHUM: Cosmic
 ZHAPU: Bussin
 THEJA: Arcane
 SALONIO: Unfathomable
 PUTI: Sparkling
 DELIE: Exciting
 AJOSA: Fun

What has working with the senior members taught you?

AKHUM: The more you know, the more you realise you actually don't know.
 ZHAPU: There's so much to say here. I have never met a single group of people with as much talent for creative work as the current seniors. But in having said that, the sheer dedication and hardwork that you all continue to pour into your work is what really keeps me awe-struck. You have all been entirely amazing in showing us how beautifully and immaculately creative skill can come alive, it is truly electric. If it hadn't been for the commitment and passion for creativity that the seniors have made the Media team's work synonymous with, I would not have found being a part of the team as worthwhile as I do. But putting the serious grind related stuff aside, the EVER delightful friendship and teamwork the seniors share has always taken the cake for me, and it's the first thing I noticed upon entry. Yes, something like engaging in friendly banter might not seem to be something that strikes as the most inspiring thing to most, but personally, working with the seniors and the team as a whole made me realise work can be fun. That often, hours of sitting through boring seminars while taking down notes from speeches delivered by the most long-winded speakers can go by faster when I don't take myself too seriously. That the daunting task of interviewing people isn't so daunting after all. And why would it be when I have a team (and might I add, a very effortlessly funny team that I'm convinced is a sitcom in some alternate universe) to rely on and work with? It has all been because of the friendly environment within the team that I've come to the simple realisation of the indispensable value of teamwork, and surely it has been the most gratifying thing I've learnt from working with the seniors.
 THEJA: To always look out for each other and work hard!!!
 SALONIO: To be more friendly, approachable and be less stuck up, in general.
 PUTI: Working with the seniors in the KSCJ Media team taught me the essence of teamwork, being more responsible for the work your assigned, treat everyone equally regardless of seniority.
 DELIE: Communication
 AJOSA: Courage to stand.

AKHUM: Sending you off with Peace, Love and Media always <3
 ZHAPU: Y'all paved the way fr. #noskillissuesinsight
 THEJA: It has been a delightfully chaotic experience meeting such talented people.
 SALONIO: "If you're going through hell, keep going. Why would you stop in hell?" ~Steve Harvey.
 PUTI: I just want to say to the seniors, i really appreciate you guys for taking care of us (the juniors). I love you all so much.
 DELIE: Philippians 4:6-7
 AJOSA: You may face tough times or hardships but continue to stand still as you guys do now just my honest thoughts i can only think of this
