Editor's Note

I am extremely honoured and overwhelmed to present to you the 47th volume of our annual college magazine 'ILLUME 2023'. Here lies the contributions and celebrations of our college in which we aim to give you a glimpse of our short yet beautiful and a memorable stay in this college. This magazine is not the outcome of the effort put by an individual, but is a collective effort put forward by the Literary Committee and my dear fellow Kscjians, from various articles, writings, visuals and reports contributed which highlights the events of the college and gives the readers a clear picture of the activities of the college for the academic session 2022-23

ILLUME is not just a magazine where the achievements, potentials, talents and visions of our college are only reflected, but it is a collection of memories that will take you places and to times when you were genuinely happy and cared less about the world. To some it serves and is serving as a connection to their one chapter of life that really bought happiness and joy, while, to some it serves as the only piece of memory left of their college life which they wish to cherish and keep it close. The work also echoes feelings of belongingness, nostalgia and a sense of unity

I sincerely hope that this issue will give you a sense of belongingness and a warmth feeling. The magazine contains exclusive annual reports by various secretaries, unions and units and as you flip through the pages, I hope it serves its purpose and lightens up your day with its artistic contents from beautiful arts to poetry and a beautiful journey of all the contributors reflecting their college life. It is an attempt to capture every little moments and also to inspire to do and to be better every single day.

(LILO P CHISHI)

The Literary Committee acknowledges the College Authorities, KSCSU Executives, Contributors and all the students of Kohima Science College (Autonomous) Jotsoma for their constant support in bringing up this publication. To the discerning eye, this magazine may contain flaws of its own and we sincerely contrite with unintended errors, if any.

It has been an amazing journey serving as the Literary Secretary for the tenure 2022-23 and I thank God for it. This platform helped me grow, learn and gain experiences for which I will forever remain grateful. And not forgetting the people I met here and the countless memories I have captured. This place helped me become the version of me. THANK YOU KSCJ!

"ILLUME" will continue to thrive and serve its purpose to inspire us and also be a connection to help us understand and remind us of how far we've all come and the progress we have made so far and I hope you fall in love with each page and acknowledge the efforts put forward by each contributors. Happy Readings!

Principal's Desk

The new National Education Policy 2020 (NEP 2020) brings in sweeping changes in the Indian Education system and aims to make India a global knowledge superpower which has set much expectation among the people of the country. The successful implementation of NEP 2020 will bring great transformation in the education system of the country and which will create many Indian youth who are highly skilled and with innovative approach towards their work and life.

In the ancient Indian ,education was considered a privilege of the elite classes with only a tiny portion of the population had access to the formal education . But the NEP 2020 is such a comprehensive policy framework that aims to reform and revitalize the education system of the country. It emphasizes the importance of equitable, inclusive and holistic education . It promote the use of technology ,innovation and research, integration of vocational and skill based training into education system providing the learners with the opportunity to acquire practical skills ,promote critical thinking and creativity. It has also incorporated sustainable development goals and ethos of the Indian philosophy. Thus ,the coming generations of Indians are expected to be armed with innovative thinking who are aware of the skill needed in the market and research oriented with an ability to give great outputs.

ARE WE READY FOR THE CHANGE ?

(DR. TEMJENWABANG)
Principal, KSCJ (A)

This idealistic policy of NEP 2020 will need proper implementation and change is possible only if all the measures introduced in the policy are implemented in a systematic and structured way .Obviously ,there are many challenges towards the implementation of this mega education policy and without a clear plan on how all the ambitious goals in the policy will be achieved,the implementing bodies are going to face a herculean task in the coming years. We will need to create a shared responsibility and ownership amongst all the important stakeholders including the private sectors,the government must be ready to invest more for infrastructure development and to train the educators .To move away from rigid content driven rote learning system to experiential learning and critical thinking would require a revolutionary change in the experiential learning and critical thinking would require a a revolutionary change in the attitudes of the people who are running the education system ,teachers ,students and the parents.

“This policy is a very important step to transform Indian into a knowledge hub”

FROM THE

Vice Principal's Desk

(R MOASANGLA JAMIR)

Vice Principal, KSCJ (Autonomous)

I am extremely happy to know that Kohima Science College Students Union is coming out with the 47th edition of the annual college magazine Illume. Congratulations!

As aptly titled "Illume", our college aims to inspire, educate, empower, transform and enrich the students as well as the society in general. This College magazine has provided an opportunity for the students to portray their topics of interest, share their ideas, creative imagination and also exhibit their writing skills. Today the role of a college is not only to impart academic knowledge but also to motivate and empower its students to be lifelong learners.

It is said that happiness is found not in finishing an activity but in doing it. Focus on the journey not on the destination. Martin Luther King Jr. once said, "You don't have to see the whole staircase, just take the first step". Remember that learning is a process of constantly updating oneself in this ever-changing world.

My message is "The only person you are destined to become is the person you decide to be. . . Ralph Waldo Emerson"

So begin your journey now.

GENERAL SECRETARY REPORT

(DILONG L SANGTAM)
General Secretary, KSCSU

I give thanks to Almighty God and the entire student community of Kohima Science College (Autonomous) Jotsoma for giving me this great opportunity to render my service toward the well-being and welfare of the college. It was a great and exciting journey filled with various activities and memorable moments which have really moulded me and the Students' Union to establish firm grounds and work for the collective good of the student community. I would like to extend my heartfelt gratitude to all my colleagues who stood with me and provided me with the much-required support and encouragement in carrying out my duties. I would also like to thank all the CR's who carried their duties without fail and disappointment also I would like to thank the college NCC and NSS along with all Government Hostellers for their dedication and response in times of need. I thank our ever-supporting Principal, Vice Principal (both), Board of Advisors, Teaching and the Non-teaching Staff for their help, cooperation and immense support shown towards the Union.

I hope that all these achievements and deeds rendered towards the student community would be upheld and strive for an even better performance and greater results in the coming tenures. I wish all the very best to the college and to its students.

GIRL'S WELFARE SECRETARY

“Coming together is a beginning; keeping together is progress;

Working together is success”

It has been a great experience and privilege to have worked as the GWS for the tenure of 2022-23. My short roller coaster journey serving along with the other student executives has not only enhance my knowledge to tackle problem but also with responsibility taught me the importance of collective work. Time limit has constraint many of the works but with an optimistic the decision taken and the works that were carried out can be put as the most suitable formula for the solution.

The success of all the activities cannot be achieved without my advisor Asst Prof. Mary keditsu.

MSC MALE REPRESENTATIVE

First and foremost, I give thanks to our Almighty God for the opportunities, experiences and friends I made along the way through my MSc journey. No words can express the gratitude I have on being elected as the MSc representative for the tenure 2022-23. The path this opportunity has paved in my life has been a fulfilling one. Einstein theory proves that speed of light is the fastest but my 5 years stay in KSCJ happens to be in contrary to Einstein theory. Got so many experiences, some correct steps taken, some errors made, but most importantly I learned a lot.

It's impossible to repay this place I call home, nor can I repay the kindness I've received from the family of friends and teachers that was built. All I can do is give my deepest gratitude to you all.

Lots of opportunities were given to me through this colourful journey, and among which, serving as the M.Sc. Male representative will be the greatest feat I've achieved. It was challenging yet fun to take up the responsibility. Everything came right on time and I was able to utilise my abilities and potential to the fullest which would not have been possible without my faithful colleagues. I'm extremely thankful and grateful to the students and the teachers for putting their trust upon me.

As the academic session comes to closure, I wish fall the students the best of life. The world is not fair and the future will be harsh but to whom is with God and determined nothing is impossible. I'm optimistic we'll meet again up the ladder one fine day'

God bless KSCJ!

GAMES & SPORTS SECRETARY

(WANGLEM M KONYAK)

Games & Sports Secretary, KSCSU

Firstly, I want to give all glory and honour to the Almighty for the wonderful opportunity and a privilege to have me served the Kohima Science College, one of distinctly prestigious colleges in the state as the Games and Sports Secretary. It was an astounding and a remarkable journey made through and whereby developing myself better in all aspects. It has been nothing short of a tremendous pleasure serving these wonderful students, lecturers, faculties and staff community. As curtain falls on an eventful year, I believe it is a time for us to reflect, work on our shortcomings and humble ourselves for all our successes. All activities undertaken during my tenure (2022-2023) were a resounding success solely because of the immense support and multitudinous aid rendered by Principal, staffs, Union Executives, Advisors and students' cooperation as a whole. However, amidst my tenure, should non-fulfilment of any proposal be there, I extend my heartfelt apology to everyone and the students' community. After all It was great learning and to traverse the challenges that awaited during the long run. However, piecing all achievements and successes on the events, I extend my utmost gratitude to Kohima Science College for the assiduous and tremendous platform provided. All these could be turned into reality because of the participation made by every individual. Lastly, I want to thank everyone and my Advisors in particular for the guidance and support given to me throughout my tenure as the Games and Sports Secretary.

NATURE'S CLUB SECRETARY

(HANGNYANG P)

Nature's Club Secretary, KSCSU

It has been a great honour and privilege to have served as the Nature's Club Secretary of Kohima Science College Student Union for the tenure 2022-2023. It was a great learning experience and has equipped me with more knowledge, confidence and leadership qualities.

For the tenure 2022-2023, a total of 96 students joined the Nature club with cooperation and help of the members, the club with the cooperation and help of the members, the club took active participation in numbers of social work. The nature club along with some volunteers took the initiative of cleaning the dumping site beside the basketball court. The Nature Club brought 52 dustbins along with the garbage bags from the funds allotted to the club and distributed it to every classroom. On 21st April 2023, the nature club along with the science club celebrated the Earth Day, where poster making competition was held for both the club members.

All these activities and my journey as a part of KSCSU could be made possible through the help of my advisor, Dr. Moakum, all the club members, my fellow executives and the student community as a whole thank you so much everyone. God Bless Kohima Science College.

EU REPORT

Greetings in the name of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to all those people who were a part of this amazing ministry and the editorial team for this platform, their time and effort. God bless!

I am grateful and humbled to be jotting down some of the events held during the tenure 2022-2023.

Brief history: Evangelical Union (EU) is a student ministry which began in 1951 after a few number of believing students gathered together in Madras for prayers, felt the need for more deeper and intimate fellowship with the Lord. They met at Prof. H Enoch's residence for fellowship and there the first EU was formed. EU is inter-denominational and thus, regardless of different denominations, we come together for fellowship and prayer, to grow together in Christ while reaching out to the non-believing students. The first EU in Nagaland was established in Fazal Ali College in 1965. EU in Kohima Science College Autonomous Jotsoma was established in 1969.

Vision Statement: "Transformed students impacting the campuses and the nation as disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Mission Statement: "UESI seeks to evangelise Post-matric students in India, nurture them as disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ that they may serve the church and the society."

UESI has four aims: Evangelism, Fellowship, Testimony and Mission

KSC (A) JEU for the tenure 2022-2023 was consecrated on 10th April, 2022 with thirty members and two Senior Advisors : Dr Seyiekhrielie Whiso and Mr Robin Temsu

EVANGELISM:

- Gospel fellowship every 1st and 4th Sundays at CCF chapel at 4 pm.
- Personal evangelism practised on personal level.
- Evangelistic week was observed from 19th-25th September, 2022.

FELLOWSHIP:

- Fellowship service every 2nd Sundays.
- Fellowship every Tuesdays at 4:30 pm. Teacher's Bible study, prayer meetings and activities like Quite time and 2/2 fellowship were conducted under Tuesday Fellowship.
- Circle Secretaries and MIGs in various hostels undertook their respective fellowship daily, weekly, monthly basis.
- Hostel penetration was conducted on 27th and 28th July 2023 covering 46 hostels including rental houses and PGs.
- Crusade was organised by Campus Christian Fellowship in partnership with KSCJ EU on the theme “The Supremacy of Christ” from 29th-31st July, 2022.

- SDTC (Summer Discipleship Training Camp) was held at Genesis Retreat Centre Jotsoma from 3rd-8th June, 2022.
- Pre-Christmas celebration in collaboration with tribal fellowships was held on 3rd December, 2022 with Dr. Kevichalie Metha (Pastor Peraciezie Baptist Church) as the speaker.

- Jumble sale in aid of SDTC 2023 and inner vision on 29th October, 2022 while also fulfilling the mission to reach the underprivileged society.
- Biography of missionaries were available in the library.

OTHER ACTIVITIES:

- Apart from Gospel, fellowship, mission and testimony service, we also conducted orientation program for the new committee members, fresher’s welcome service and thanksgiving services.
- On 11th Dec 2022, EU committee members attended the Silver Jubilee celebration of Japfu Christian College EU.

- 4. Easter Sunday Special Movie night held on 17th April, 2022 entitled “The Case for Christ”.
- Hosted KICEU (Kohima Intercollegiate Evangelical Union) combined fellowship on 17th September, 2022 and 11th February, 2023.
- Musical Night on 18th September, 2022.
- EU opened stall during College Win Fest, 5th -10th December, 2022 in aid of SDTC 2023.
- Service by outgoing committee members on 12th February, 2023.

All glory and honour to our God for the great success of the above mentioned activities. I praise God for the lives that had contributed tremendously towards this ministry: the senior advisors, UESI staffs, the CCF, the college authorities and every individual that is a part of the KSCJ as a whole. God bless all!

My team really appreciate the care, time and help you have given towards this ministry. Our tenure as active members ended on 19th February, 2023. As we venture to a new calling that God has in store for us, remember us as your dear brothers and sisters in Christ. KSCJ will always be in our fervent prayers. God bless KSCJ.

The new committee members were consecrated by Sister Hulika Yeptho and will be led by Mr Tisovi Vüprü as the President.

Kohima Science College (Autonomous), Jotsoma

The National Cadet Corps (NCC) was founded in the year 1948 with the motto “UNITY and DISCIPLINE” under the NCC Acts XXXVI by the Ministry of Defence (MOD). It is a Three-tier organisation viz., AIR, ARMY and NAVY Wing. It is a voluntary organization with an aim to develop character, comradeship, discipline, leadership, sportsmanship, spirit of adventure, self-confidence and many other morals.

NCC is one of the biggest youth organisations in the world today with a total strength of nearly 14 lakhs cadets. It has an advantage for the ‘C Certificate’ holders as it creates a number of vacancies every year through UPSC and SSC. Other than just armed forces there are several central and state Government organisations who give special preference to NCC cadets. Cadets are also given the opportunity to attend camps in any parts of India as well as abroad and visit numerous alliance countries through Youth Exchange Programme (YEP), financed by Government of India.

LITERATURE COLUMN

A MEMOIR OF REMEMBRANCE

“That will never come again is what makes life so sweet” ~ Emily Dickinson

Reality kicks in when we realize we are no longer in high school. Suddenly you're in college. Summer no longer smells like vanilla ice cream and back bench lunches. The roads you climbed and looked up to with heavy bags, seem narrow and your bag now holds nothing but a medium sized classmate notebook and stacks of fundraising tickets you were forced to buy from seniors. August rushes with blue hues, and you wonder about the future. Will you be thinking of this ten years from now? Is this worth all your time and dedication? There is time, it always has been. Assorting our feelings and blending in to new surroundings, time completed our first year as freshers.

Maybe you commute from bus, or wake up for the second class. It's all a mystery really. Spring arrives early in February, with a sense of acceptance or maybe hope for a romantic comedy. April kisses you with sincerity and May wipes it off by bringing you countless responsibilities. Like the middle child from a family of warmth, you uphold your duties by guiding the youngsters, under the shelter of your upperclassmen. Fortune is always in your favour, trips are scheduled and plans are made. Sometime in the near future, you might even travel far away with the money you're collecting. And you think that maybe, this is the right time to live, or the best time to stay under stress.

Then in the blink of an eye, you'll no longer be in college. The same summer will arrive, but it will no longer carry the serene heat, the scent of spicy sinju or the perfume of your college love. April will caress you, but with reminiscent sincerity. Certainty will assure you, that you'll be thinking of this for a life time and maybe your past self was wrong. Maybe this was worth all the time and dedication. This was all worth it in the end. You made it, and all the worries, the countless bunked classes, never-ending practicals will be shadowed by the fragments of memories. And these memories with each of their own will be etched into your very own bones.

For many, this has been a beautiful epilogue; you have cried, laughed, been hurt, overwhelmed, stumbled and loved. Look at your footprints in the sand, they are here no matter when. All these have taught you to be the person you've become today. For some, a prologue. The feeling of the end might just have been the beginning. Go on, there is a longer way ahead. After all, we only live once.

When a story is about to end, we'll always think of its beginning. This is the story you created together, as in the past and for the future. Never can we suspend the time, so spend your lifetime to taste all the love and pain life has in store for you. To the graduating class of '23, it just got hotter in here by 1 degree :)

The real world awaits you these past years have been the very best. You believed you could, and so you did. Congratulations on making it this far.

Everything turned out okay in the end, didn't it?

Ginkgobiloba

LIVING FOSSIL OF BOTANY
6TH SEMESTER (2020-23)

~ Contributed by Ginkgobiloba Members

Every class has that particular circle of friends with the most odd combinations of personalities right? Well, Ginkgo biloba is one example from the botany batch of 2020! An odd combination of extroverts and introverts who had one thing in common, “I want to give up B.Sc” and now, we are graduatingggggg.

It all began through a practical session, pretty sure we annoyed our other mates with our non-stop chattering and laughter. Although, that practical will forever be etched onto our memories!

MOVING ON, LET’S MEET THE MEMBERS...

Ale

You either know her by Ale or Liekbrou. She’s the social butterfly of the group. Every friend group has that “IT” friend, the one who everyone knows and who knows everyone? She’s that friend, she talks with a lot of Homo sapiens vutbat you will even start questioning your existence. Her observation skills will astound you and her mimicry TOP NOTCH! You’ll never have a dull day having a chat with her and witnessing her mimicry. Too honest with her opinions, knows a lot about what’s going on and brings the tea from all corners. Be warned of her gallery, she’s that friend that has the ugliest photos and the cringiest videos of her friends and classmates.

PS> If you’re in need of some extroverted-ness, she’s the “go-to “for it!”

Jisen

Another case of “that one friend every friend group has”. She’s the tallest member in the group, stays the farthest yet has a lot of energy (comes to class all the way from IG every day, mamuli naideh) she comes too late for the first class but too early for the second period(well that’s what sir Toso said). The self-conscious queen, not a day goes by without her asking if her hair is in place, if her lip colour is fading, if we notice her pimples etc. You’d (we do) applaud her for her dedication to carry all the creams, sanitizers, tissues to keep you clean. Never ever underestimate her “5-min preparation” and “last minute preparation”. She walks with confidence and is always a surprise box! For her “Pika chai is bae” to my Konyak brothers, this is your chance to kindly line up. She’s that friend that helps you finish all the leftovers. She’s also a very very hardworking and talented artist!

PS> If you’re in need of a Japanese translator, find her> <

Vizo

Here's the Chill pill and showstopper of the group. You either know her by Vizo or if not Ketoulhoukhono. She's the one person who can win the "most nonchalant" award. Walks, breathes, writes, submits calmly and with so much chill you'd think she had the powers to control time! Also, the most aesthetically eye pleasing dresser and personal human sized Pinterest board! She has her showstopper moment every time she walks into the classroom early (and late). The one friend that zones out 24×7 even when you're talking to her, always be prepared to show your reactions twice, that includes excitement, sadness, shock, frustration. Sometimes you also have to keep a backup "laughter" in case the first one doesn't reach her.

PS> If you're in need of a good shopper, she's THE ONE!

NOUNE

You know how every friend group(yet again) has that one friend who only views messages in the group chat or doesn't remember to read the group chats? She's The One! Probably the only one who talks the least and barely even talks, although, you can trust in her to scream, squeal, giggle when you talk about Anime, manga, manbwass, CATS and a pinch of k-pop topics. Again know that one friend in the group who is super picky with food? She's the one, good luck to her future husband bebe. She hates chillies, mind you! Alu fried with just a pinch of salt and a little bit of turmeric powder is her favourite.

PS> Most inactive in group chat activities but you can always rely on her for accompaniment.

Ruovi

Ever had a situation where you had to go search for meanings from Google while texting with someone who uses highly advanced modernized words? She's that friend, we learnt a lot from her but at the same time feels so dumb. The "I promise I'm friendly, I just look rude" friend. Changes personality according to the people she's comfortable with. Don't fall victim to her sarcasm or humour. A multi Stan involved in all circles of Web Novel, novel, manbwass, manga, anime, kpop, kdrama, cdrama. Thriller, gore, action genres excites her (She loves it even more when there's a lot of blood scenes). Apart from all the scary sides of her, she's what we call a sweet person. Once you get to know her, you'll regret not knowing her sooner. She and Nounne are the sincere ones in the group. She will tell you she did not study but still nails the tests and exams. The queen of spice!!! How to kidnap someone like Ruovi? Lure her with a bag of Naga King Chillies and the job is done.

PS> If you're in need of movie/drama/novel ratings, come to her.

So, we've met the members, learnt a teeny weeny bit about their personalities. Mind you, there's more underneath the covers we've just shared haha. This friendship pretty much started because of seating arrangement (we occupy the first bench in style) and progressed more because of the practical. But, Question remains, are we grateful? Of course we are! The anecdotes we experienced and laughed at like maniacs, the break time tea party, the other practicals.... They say, "Opposites attract", and maybe that's true because Ginkgo biloba pretty much had the combination of odd and opposite personalities. Basically every incident that followed after the formation of Ginkgo biloba will always be treasured as some of the best memories in college life.

To know more about us, you can check out the group from instagram @ginkgo_biloba. You can also contact or share reviews of this article, we'd be happy to read them. Until then bye, Long Live Ginkgo biloba.

SIDEWALKS OF KOHIMA

*Around this bend I have turned a hundred times,
Here begins where the cherries bid me goodbye.*

*On this hill I buried reflections of youth,
Cursed the sun – eclipser of darker visions,
I fostered envy for impossible things
And glimpsed through rose-coloured lens, the gleam of life.*

*I fought a mind that troubled me endlessly.
Jocund memories are seared in my mind's eye.
Holy scars that embrace the ghosts of my past,
And dance circles around the tomb of my pride.
I longed to escape the monotony, and Ran towards the music that lulled my soul.*

*How vain to believe a city's dreary din was Apollo's symphony? How it pains me!
What good to be spent and lost in weary lands?
Why have I sought a separation from her
Who knows me best and loves me most fervently?
Who but God to leave the ninety-nine for me?*

*To this forest I now return, the same glen Greets me – a promise of unchanging fondness.
Raconteurs echo in these woods, smoke rises,
A rooster crows, the church bells ring, dawn so near.
Sweetened coffee, traffic lights, broken pavements,
I do not know a better abode than here.*

*The years sped away but Kohima remained
Entwined in branches of faith and fantasy.
I have strolled down long winding paths in this town,
Gathering parts of myself along the way.
I am amalgamation of all of Kohima – what life she has breathed into me!*

An Ode to College

memories

~ Rouvi Lezietsu, B.Sc 6th Sem.

Like sand on an hourglass, six semesters slipped by fast
Friendships built, friendships forgotten, memories piled Strangers revered blossoming friendship with a tinge of competition!

First day of college, we were all strangers,
Strangers who in the end, came out of our shells,
We formed a bond we'd never have predicted!
Coursing through the corridors and hallways of the college,
In search of our respective departments and classes.
Aspirants, dreamers and acheivers, all collected in one classroom,
Some bright like the sun, some dim like the night, some like the moon.
To each their interests, they say, true to these words,
We all bonded over common interests.

Some classes fun, some horrific, especially classes unprepared for
Some students ever so curious we'd instead learn from their questions.
Practicals were both exciting and sometimes dreary
For procrastinators, practical records were Herculean tasks!
Came tests and exams, we soared high on stress, anxiety, competition,
Above all, melatonin soared the highest!
Indeed a miracle some of us passed with mediocre preparation!

As time continues to flow by,
Each passing day proves to be a collection;
A collection of events to reminisce as college memories,
Countless nights of preparation for our dreams to soar,
Tears we shed for our dreams, the price we pay with our health,
Both joyous and sorrowful reminders,
As we graduate, with heavy and light hearts,
College memories will always blossom nostalgia in us and me.
The blissful college days finally come to an end!

PEACE

LOVE

His sweating in summer, Her meadow of spring
A tale of love none has ever seen....
He'll love her until the leaves stay green,
A legend of a servant loved by a Queen....
Rugged was He a little, She like a dove....
Her name gave him peace, He gave her love.
His thoughts sole for her, Hers were for love,
Her name means peace, mine means love...

I's turned to Us, Me turned to We,
They fell harder than the winter wind
Could such love had ever been possible?
A bond like theirs was everyone's plea....

All was well, but there reached a time,
She had to say what lurked on her mind....
Her heart proved her wrong, so she heeded her mind,
In peace, she leaves everything behind....

She was strong indeed to take her call
So brave she never looked back at all,
It seems she knew that we're about to fall,
She wanted to jump & run, He only knew how to crawl...

But after all these years, her smile still gets him
He'll love her till dust beneath blankets him,
The bricks broke the bones, her absence his heart,
There was no way He could do it from the start....

Now he's silent of what he always speaks of
People try to love him but it often leaks off
She has learned to leave all that was vain,
But boy! Would He die to meet her again!

So now, This story of their lives they'd never forget,
She'll remember it in vain, He'll reckon his regrets....
And now the world knows so does the angels above,
Her name meant peace, Mine meant Love....

~ Praney Prem (BSc 4th Semester)

UNPLANNED

*The train of LIFE still travels and be unknownst to us,
What the string of destiny have in stored for us.
We always set out to a new day,
a new page and a new station.*

*Unplanned are the friendships we create along our journey.
Unforeseen are the events of life.
Maybe its fate or just a coincidence we never know.
We wrote a page with the ink of memories,
And flip to another blank page of our life.
A chapter of our life closed, yet not forgotten
And a couple more chapters unknown to us awaits.*

MY COMFORT ZONE

Is it true that you'd pull me down?
Is it true that you'd kill my future?
Is it true that you're my enemy?
Is it true that you slaughter ambitions?

Do we deserved to be separated?
Do we have to hate each other?
Do we need to say goodbye?
Do we mean nothing to one another?

You made visualize my future.
You pulled me down to wake me up
You are my best enemy, My Dear.
You closed one and opened the other

Leaving you for I had to find you
Hating you for I had to leave you,
A goodbye until we meet again.
I had to mean nothing to you to have all of you

SONDER

~ C Mankhat Konyak, 6th Sem. English Dept.

THE UNSPOKEN EXPERIENCE OF COLLEGE LIFE/ THE REALIZATION THAT EVERYONE HAS A STORY.

College is a period for inquiry, personal development, and self-discovery. We all have our own stories to tell as students who come from different backgrounds and life experiences. It is simple to become preoccupied with our own lives and forget that everyone around us is experiencing their own particular journey. This is when the idea of “sonder” comes into play. Sonder can serve as a reminder of the interconnectivity of people in a world that frequently values individualism and self-interest. It can make us feel compassion, friendliness, and understanding for those we might otherwise ignore or pass off as incidental people in our lives.

I was enthralled by the anticipation of beginning a new chapter in my life during my first year in college. I was preoccupied with meeting new people, visiting the campus, and taking part in different activities. I didn't realize that everyone has a story to tell until I stood back and looked at the people around me. Each person I encountered was leading a distinct life, complete with particular experiences, challenges, and victories. Everybody around me had a life that was equally significant and intricate as mine. Walking through the college's hallways, I can still clearly recall feeling like a tiny fish in a very large pond. I noticed students racing to class, chatting with pals, and working alone everywhere I turned. It was simple to think that I was the only person going through what I was, but then I thought about sonder.

I am struck by the realization that each person I encounter is living a different, unique story as I move through my college's busy hallways. Each one is the protagonist of their own story, carrying their own hopes, anxieties, and burdens. This idea of sonder, the comprehension that each person has a complex and significant existence, has become a major theme of my college experience.

As I gazed out of the classroom window, I couldn't help but feel a sense of wonder and awe as I watched the students rushing to class, each carrying their own unique burden, dream, or story. The rush hour before class is always an interesting time to observe. Some students are running to make it to their lectures on time, while others stroll leisurely, taking in the morning air. Perhaps the girl walking quickly to class is nervous about an upcoming exam or excited about a date later that night. A lone student walked by, headphones on and lost in thought. As I watched these students go about their daily routine, I couldn't help but wonder about their lives beyond the campus. What were their dreams and aspirations? What were their struggles and fears? What had led them to this moment, rushing to class on a beautiful morning?

Thoughts and issues can easily draw us inside, but the concept of sonder serves as a reminder that we are not alone in the world. Everyone in our environment is engaged in their own struggles, difficulties, and joys and sorrows.

As I progressed through college, I made an effort to learn more about the people around me, listened to their stories, and tried to understand their perspectives. I found that the more I learned about others, the more I learned about myself. It made me realize that I was not the center of the universe, but just one small part of a larger, interconnected community.

In conclusion, sonder has been one of the most valuable lessons I have learned during my time in college. It has made me more empathetic, compassionate, and understanding towards the people around me. It has also made me appreciate the beauty and complexity of the human experience. So, the next time you're walking through your college campus, take a moment to appreciate the people around you. They are all protagonists in their own story, carrying their own dreams and burdens, just like you.

GEOGRAPHY

Poem
DEAR

Juniors

*My sun has set
It's time for you to race
My time has end
It's time for you to gain
No more here is my tomorrow
But you have still to grow
No more my mouth will speak
But my eyes continue to seek
I had lots of memories
You have many more stories
We give the responsibilities to you
Continue to do something new
Remember me when I'm gone
I'll always remember what we have done
Good bye.*

 back when it's all done.
 It's all good when you're little, you have pure fun. Can't be a fool, son, what about the long run?
